9. VIRTUAL CARD AND DIGITAL WALLET

The Bank may enable to the user of a Mastercard credit/revolving card, to use such card as a virtual one within the Digital Wallet application of a specific Digital Wallet Service Provider, with whom the Bank has concluded an agreement.

The Virtual Card represents a digital display of a payment card in the Digital Wallet, enabling the cardholder to make contactless payment transactions at points of sale and ATMs that support NFC (Near Field Communication), wireless communication and/or at Internet points of sale enabling this type of payment.

The Digital Wallet represents an application solution for mobile payments, developed and offered by a specific Service Provider, enabling the card holder to register data related to one or more payment cards issued by the Bank in the application and thus generate a virtual card/virtual cards in order to initiate payments transactions.

Digital Wallet Service Provider represents a legal entity that offers the service of Digital Wallet, in which the Bank has made it possible to register the cards it issues.

The Mobile Device is a device for installation of the application Digital Wallet, which the user contracted with the Service Provider of Digital Wallet.

9.1. Activation of the virtual card

The Mastercard credit/revolving cardholder contracts the service of Digital Wallet with the Service Provider of the Digital Wallet. The Bank is not a contracting party of such relationship, nor does it assume or may assume the rights or obligations arising from such relationship, and is not responsible for the availability or functioning of that service. The cardholder independently decides whether to accept the terms and conditions of the Digital Wallet service, offered by a specific Digital Wallet Service Provider, which also determines the type and characteristics of the mobile device to contract and install the Digital Wallet application. Registering the payment card in the Digital Wallet, the virtual card is created including all terms and conditions of the card, whose digital overview is presented by such virtual card. All terms and conditions for issuance and usage of a certain Mastercard credit/revolving card contracted between the Bank and the Basic Beneficiary are applied also for the virtual card, unless otherwise determined by these Terms and Conditions.

9.2. Virtual card usage and authorization of payment transactions

After the Mastercard credit/revolving card holder concludes a contract with the Digital Wallet Service Provider and registers the valid card in the Digital Wallet, he/she can use the generated virtual card at points of sale and ATMs which accept such payment instrument. The terms and conditions of using the Digital Wallet service are defined by the contract between the card holder and the Service Provider, which is concluded by accepting the general terms and conditions of the Service Provider by the card holder, either directly in the Service Provider's application, or through the Bank's mobile banking service if the Bank allows it. The card holder gives consent for execution of a payment transaction, initiated using the Digital Wallet Service, through security elements saved by the card holder on the mobile device and contracted with the Digital Wallet Service Provider. For a payment transaction executed by a virtual card, the Basic Card Holder will be charged in the same manner as if the transaction was initiated using the card based on which the virtual card was generated. Beside from the Bank in a contracted manner, the virtual card holder can receive information on completed payment transactions also from the Service Provider, if such service was contracted.

If the user has several virtual cards in the same Digital Wallet, the user sets the order of the virtual cards for initiating the transaction, according to the rules determined by the Digital Wallet Service Provider in the contract concluded with the Card Holder.

9.3. Card replacement and new cards

When the Bank replaces the user's Mastercard credit/revolving card due to its expiration date or before the expiration date for any other reason, the new card will be registered on the user's mobile device and thus available for usage as a virtual card, unless the card was replaced with a new one due to a report on misuse of card and/or mobile device. If the card has not been taken over, the Bank retains the right to disable the use of the virtual card in the Digital Wallet. Deletion of a virtual card from the Digital Wallet does not have any effect on the ability to use the card based on which the deleted virtual card was generated. Deletion of a virtual card from the Digital Wallet does not release the Card Holder from the obligation to settle all liabilities, incurred by that card before its deletion.

9.4. Termination or limitation of the right to use the virtual card

If, for any reason, the Agreement on using the general-purpose loan per MasterCard credit card is terminated, under which the Bank has issued a Mastercard credit/revolving card to the user with virtual card as its digital representation, or if the user cancels the usage of the card or the Bank denies the user the right to use the card, the right to use the virtual card will also be terminated at the same time.

In case the right to use the card has been terminated and/or Agreement on using the general-purpose loan per MasterCard credit card has been cancelled/terminated or in case of temporary denial of right to use the card, the Basic Card Holder will still be under obligation to pay or provide funds on the account to settle all liabilities incurred by using the Mastercard credit/revolving card and virtual card.

The Bank can permanently or temporarily block the virtual card for the reasons related to safety in offering payment services, in case of suspicion of unauthorized usage of virtual card, that is, a usage with intent to fraud. The Bank will inform the card holder about its intention and reasons for blocking the virtual card whenever possible before blocking, i.e. immediately after the blocking. The Bank will enable again the registry of the virtual card once the reasons for its blocking cease to exist. The reasons for temporary and permanent blocking, that is, disabling card usage are applicable also for the virtual card. Blocking of the card results in blocking of the virtual card, whereas blocking of the virtual card does not have to result in blocking of the Mastercard card. The Digital Wallet Service Provider can disable usage of the virtual card for some of the reasons contracted with the card holder when arranging the service of Digital Wallet. In such case, the Bank does not have the possibility nor the obligation to impose any influence on the Service Provider with regards to availability of the Digital Wallet service to the card holder.

9.5. Security

Registering the Mastercard credit/revolving card in the Digital Wallet on a certain mobile device, the Card Holder undertakes to handle the mobile device with due care and to undertake reasonable measures for protection and confidentiality preservation of the personalized security elements on the mobile device, arranged with the Service Provider, necessary for giving consent for execution of payment transactions, initiated by the Digital Wallet service. All payment transactions initiated by the virtual card will be considered completed by the card holder, unless the card holder has previously reported to the Bank a theft, loss or misuse of the mobile device or the personalized security elements for the mobile device.

The Card Holder undertakes:

- to act with due care when creating personalized security elements for the mobile device and/or Digital Wallet, by not selecting security elements that somebody could guess or associate with the card holder,
- to disable access to the mobile device by the fingerprint of other persons or by face recognition of other persons,
- if the Card Holder has set security elements on the device before contracting the Digital Wallet service and generating the virtual card, such as a password, passcode or fingerprint access, he/she must review them and ensure a change of all security elements that had been set in such a way that anyone can guess them or security elements which the user has already disclosed to other persons, directly or indirectly, and he/she shall disable access by using other persons' fingerprints,
- in case he/she suspects that anyone is familiar or could be familiar with the security elements for the mobile device or any security element for access to mobile device, he/she shall change the security elements without any delay, and in case of loss or theft of mobile device or suspicion of misuse of mobile device or security elements, he/she shall inform the Bank without any delay.
- to keep as a secret and prevent other persons from finding out the one-time passwords that the Bank provides to the card holder for the purpose of identification when registering the card in the Digital Wallet.

9.6. Fees for using Digital wallet service

The Bank shall not charge any fee from the Mastercard credit/revolving card holder for registering the card in the Digital Wallet nor for using the Digital Wallet. The Bank has no influence on fees charged by the Digital Wallet Service Provider for its service, or by third parties offering services directly or indirectly linked to this service.

9.7. Processing personal data and data on payment transactions initiated by virtual card

If the Card Holder registers the Mastercard credit/revolving card in the application Digital Wallet using the mobile banking service, and if the Bank allows it, the Card Holder thereby authorizes and instructs the Bank to deliver to the Service Provider the identification data of the user and data on the card to be registered, including also data on card expiry date, with the aim of signing agreement between the card holder and the Service Provider. The Service Provider is at the same time the personal data processor with regards to personal data of Digital Wallet user, and as such, it is responsible for legality in processing the personal data, necessary to conclude and execute the agreement on Digital Wallet service, within duration and upon termination of that contract. The Bank has no influence and it is not responsible for the manner in which the Service Provider receives and processes data.

Within validity and usage of the virtual card, the Bank delivers to the Service Provider the non-personalized information on payment transactions initiated by the virtual card, for the purpose of executing agreement between the card holder and Service Provider.

Contracting and usage of the Digital Wallet Service includes a secure transfer of information through electronic communication networks, provided by the electronic communication service providers, over which the Bank has no influence, including the electronic communication service providers of the card holder. The Bank shall not be responsible for availability and functioning of this service, nor for transfer of data from the Service Provider to the user's mobile phone and vice versa, nor for storing the data on the user's mobile phone.
